NORTHFIELD CONFERENCES —DAY BY DAY—

THE HIGHLIGHTS

And Other Information of Interest

FRIDAY, JULY 20

Addressing the 400 delegates assembled at the Northfield conference of Religious Education today, Dean Herbert W. Gates discussed the method of finding Christ through the medium of the Bible and other books. The theme of the Round Top meetings is "I Press on Toward Christ," and each evening a different speaker discusses the various approaches such as through the power of personality and prayer. Dr. Gates declared that to know Christ we must know all about His life and we must know what other men thought about Him.

The Young People's Council at its meeting yesterday, elected Roger Walker, of the First Congregational church of Malden, president for the session of 1934-35. Miss Grace Borgeson, of Scarsdale, N. Y., was elected to the office of secretary. The registration department revealed today that there are 136 churches represented at this conference, and that although New England predominates, New Jersey and New York are well represented, and there is one delegation from Illinois. At 8:00 this evening, the young people held a party in the gymnasium at which there were refreshments and dancing. Dr. Brush gave a few poetry readings during the intermission.

SATURDAY, JULY 21

An address to the 400 delegates who are attending the Northfield Conference of Religious Education was given this evening by Professor James Marshall of Harvard on the subject of "The Education of Youth as a Step toward World Peace." Professor Marshall is chairman of the International Friendship League and has done a great deal of work in the interests of maintaining world peace. "I feel," said Professor Marshall, "that the education of youth is one of the most important features on the program of those of us who are anxious that we maintain world peace. If youth can be brought to know the truth, to realize all of the facts, then, I think, we will have accomplished a great deal."

The Round Top speaker for this evening was Dr. Miles W. Smith who continued the series of "I Press on Toward Christ" by attempting to show how our meeting of failure or adversity sometimes brings us closer to Him. "A great deal," said Dr. Smith, "depends on how a man can stand up under failure or adversity. If he takes it in the right spirit and does not become cynical or bitter, he is very apt to emerge from the experience with a closer kinship to the Master. These are the acid tests of our life, an awe must meet them with courage." Dr. Smith is editor of the American Baptist Publication society of Philadelphia.

An interesting feature of the present conference is a course, in Christian History, by Dr. F. L. Fagley, secretary of the Congregational Educational Society of Boston. Dr. Fagley treats the course as a survey of the history of the church and the leaders who have made it. Miss Ruth Seabury is continuing her discussion of our relations with Orientals and the problems involved, and Dr. Harry Stock meets every day with his young people's group for the practical discussion of problems of religious belief and Christian living.

Dr. John W. Brush, of New Haven, will deliver the sermon tomorrow in the Auditorium at 10:45.

SUNDAY, JULY 22

Speaking this morning before a crowded auditorium at the Northfield Conference of Religious Education, the Reverend John W. Brush said: "Young men, want above all else an answer to their questions, and our Christian faith has an answer to the deepest questions men can ask. It is not an opiate. It is a tonic and a challenge."

The subject of Dr. Brush's sermon was "We Must Tell the News," and he declared, "To-day the newspapers and every means of communication are filled with shocking and heartbreaking news. I am making a plea for the revival of the spoken witness. In these days when everything that we deemed permanent and unchanging is crumbling before the onslaught of time, we must tell men what Christ means to us. It is the best news and the most timely news in the world, but something seals our lips."

"This is in part," continued Dr. Brush, "our instinctive reticence to speak of holy things, and we rightly suspect the glib religious tongue that says too much, but the time has come when we must speak openly and share the good news."

MONDAY, JULY 23

After a week-end of social activities, the Northfield Conference of religious education continued today with the usual lectures and discussion groups. Addressing his group this morning, Dr. Miles W. Smith declared: "Teachers, whether of public school or church school, need to understand the native endowment of the children they teach. The fundamental drives known as instincts may be used by the teacher, and when the teacher does so he is working in harmony with God's plan, and his teaching will receive the largest measure of success." Dr. Smith is editor-in-chief of the American Baptist Publication society which publishes about 8,000,000 pages a week.

The Round Top service this evening was conducted by Professor Warren T. Powell who used as his topic "Finding Christ by way of Duty—Moral Responsibility." Professor Powell is the director of student counseling and religious activities at Boston University. Dr. Sidney A. Weston will speak on Temperance Education tomorrow night at 8:00 p.m. in Music Hall. After his address, an open forum will be held in order to learn what actually is being done in the churches.

In the swimming meet which was held at Wanamaker Lake on Saturday afternoon Thelma Child made the highest score in the girls' division, and Linscott Tyler made the highest score in the boys' group. The annual stunt night will be held in the auditorium at 8:15 Wednesday evening, and the Drama Club will present a play under the leadership of Miss Marion Brown on Friday afternoon at 4:30 in Music Hall.

On Thursday night James Henry Forman of the Motion Picture Research Council will deliver an address concerning the film industry. This address is expected to be of unusual interest to the delegates in view of the recent militant stand of the churches in regard to the censorship of this form of amusement.

TUESDAY, JULY 24

What the attitude of modern religious educators should be toward the liquor problem was discussed this evening in an address by Sidney A. Weston entitled "To Drink or Not to Drink." Dr. Weston is managing editor of the Congregational Publishing Society and is a well-known temperance lecturer. He pointed out that the recent repeal of Prohibition has focused the question in what young people are apt to think of as an entirely new light.

"But," declared Dr. Weston, "the question is not new. It goes back to Pliny and Aristotle. Many sincere people think that drinking in moderation is right and proper, but here we must remember that no man liveth unto himself, and our drinking in either small or large quantities has its effect upon other people. Also, we know that drunken driving has increased enormously since repeal."

"Liquor also has its effect upon the moral attitudes and habits of individuals; standards of conduct are weakened; finer sensibilities are coarsened; moral judgments are clouded, and the associations of the individual diminish in importance until nothing matters a great deal to him."

Dr. Weston conducts two other discussion courses for students from the ages of 16-18 on the subjects of "Love and Marriage" and "War and Peace." His main course is on the subject of "Jesus The Master Leader." Introducing this course, he said: "Our task is like that of excavating an ancient city, sinking our shaft down through layer after layer of the debris of centuries until we come to the place and time where He lived. We are to get as close to the original sources as possible; to let Him speak to us through His own words and deeds; to study Him in the midst of His own environment; to try to see His problems and how He met them; to learn His message for His own time and for ours; in short—to see if we can find the real Jesus and form our own impression of Him and of His work."

The Round Top service this evening was conducted by Dr. Vaughn and Dabney who spoke on "Finding Christ by the Way of Prayer." Dr. Dabney is the dean of Andover Newton Theological School at Newton Center, Mass. A musical was held in Sage Chapel at 9:15 this evening. Soprano solos were rendered by Miss Mabel Friessell, of Needham, and there were some delightful piano and organ selections by Mrs. Hoglund, of Hartford, and Mrs. Allen of Quincy.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 25

In a lecture this morning on the subject of War and Peace, Dr. Sidney Weston declared that the system of modern warfare was entirely inconsistent with the teachings of Jesus. He pointed out that although it is easy to justify war in the Old Testament, yet it is impossible to do so in the four gospels. Following our conscience in the matter of war and peace need not be unpatriotic if we consider patriotism as serving the best interests of our country because encouraging a growing spirit of nationalism and militarism is not serving the best interests of our country.

"The greatest indictment of war," said Dr. Weston, "is its essential futility. We have all only one life, and to give that up to serve someone's imperialistic urges or their greed for power is senseless. We must develop good will between nations and races; our government should take over the munition factories, for it will be amazing how war talk will disappear with the profit motive eliminated, and we must develop an international outlook among the peoples of the earth."

Dr. F. L. Fagley, of Boston, conducted the Round Top service on the subject of finding Christ by way of worship. He pointed out that in true worship we have a feeling of communion with God that brings us closer to finding Him than anything else possibly could. Dr. Fagley is secretary of adult education at the Congregational Educational Society.

At 3:00 the delegates took a trip over to Mount Hermon school where Ambert G. Moody, the nephew of Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, made short address. Judge Parker of Westfield also made an address in which he spoke of his long friendship and interest in the Northfield Schools. Guides were selected from among the Mount Hermon students who showed the delegates the various spots of interest, and refreshments were served on the lawn.

The annual stunt night was held this evening in the auditorium at 8:15 and was enthusiastically received by a large crowd.

THURSDAY, JULY 26

"I can't come, mother. I'm on a committee," shouted 6-year-old Elsie Jones to her amazed parent this morning in front of Betsy Moody cottage at the Northfield Conference of Religious Education. Elsie is one of the forty children who make up the demonstration class led by Miss Bessie L. Doherty, of the Congregational Church of Needham. This class is intended to show the delegates the actual practice as well as the theory of religious teaching. The children have planned a reception and entertainment which they are going to give for their less-fortunate friends at the Virginia Fresh Air Camp.

Miss Florence Burek of the First Baptist Church of Worcester, led a Round Table discussion at 5:00 this afternoon on the art of Story Telling and related subjects. The Round Top service was led by Miss Ruth Seabury, educational secretary for the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, on the subject of "Finding Christ by way of enlistment." Miss Seabury pointed out that actually serving Christ brings us closer to Him.

Preparations are being made for the graduation exercises which will be held Saturday morning in Sage Chapel at 11:45. Two diplomas are awarded, the standard leadership diploma and the Northfield diploma. The standard leadership diploma is awarded on completion of twelve units of work, and the Northfield diploma is awarded on completion of six units of work. Judge Parker, of Westfield, will officiate at the graduation exercises.

Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, honorary minister of the Broadway Tabernacle, N. Y., will speak Sunday.

VIRGINIA CAMP

"Gee, mister, it certainly is swell up here!"

This remark was made by Anna Gordzica, aged 12, to the reporter who visited the Virginia Fresh Air camp this morning at East Northfield. Anna is typical of the 40 odd girls who are nearing the end of their two-week stay at the camp. She is a member of a family of eight children whose father has been out of work for three years, and whose sole means of support comes from the Home Relief commission. They live in the lower East side of New York city, and the family has moved four or five times in as many months to avoid paying the rent for which they have no money.

Anna's need is physical, and she has greatly benefited in her two weeks in the outdoors, but in another two weeks her sister Catherine, aged 15, will come to Northfield, and her need is of a different nature. The living conditions of the Gordzica family are bound to have a moral as well as a physical effect upon the children, and it is this need which the counselors will try to serve in the case of Catherine.

Briefly, the case of these two sisters represents a cross section of the work of this camp, which is under the direction of the New York city mission society with Mrs. William R. Moody as resident chairman. The camp grounds and equipment are donated by the Northfield Schools, and a collection for the maintenance of the camp is taken at the General conference of Christian workers. The camp received its name from a grand-daughter of D. L. Moody, the evangelist, who died in her infancy.

The railroads carry the children from the city for approximately one fourth of the regular fare, and all of the children are members of various Sunday schools on the East side. The founders had a three-fold purpose in establishing the Virginia Camp, namely the desire to promote health, happiness, and religious training among the unfortunate children of the slum sections of New York.

54th Annual General Conference

The 54th annual Northfield General Conference will open on August 1 with Dr. Paul D. Moody, son of D. L. Moody, founder of the conference, acting as chairman. Later in the session, which will continue until August 12, Dr. Moody will be joined in the chairmanship by Dr. John R. Mott, international Y.M.C.A. and missionary leader whose early associations at Northfield laid the basis for his career. Among the special features planned for this conference are a Laymen's Week-end, August 10 to 12 under the leadership of Dr. Mott and special music through the entire session under the direction of a group of singers from the Westminster Choir of Princeton.

Following the formal opening Wednesday evening a memorial service will be held for the late William Revell Moody who succeeded his father, D. L. Moody, as chairman upon the great evangelist's death in 1899. "Will" Moody continued to be the guiding spirit of this historic gathering until his death last October. Wilfred W. Fry, president of The Northfield Schools, with which the conference is associated, and the Rev. Adam W. Burnet of the Westbourne Church, Glasgow, will take part in the memorial service. Burnet is one of the many brilliant British preachers brought to this country by Mr. Moody.

John R. Mott is hurrying his return from an extended trip through Europe and Africa to be present during the latter part of the Conference particularly the Laymen's Week-end, August 10 to 12. Three laymen, including Dr. Mott, and three ministers will be the chief speakers: P. Whitwell Wilson of the New York Times, David R. Porter, former secretary of the Y.M.C.A. now connected with the Northfield Schools, Dr. James M. Black of Edinburgh, Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, honorary minister of the Broadway Tabernacle, New York, and the Rev. Mr. Burnet.

The program for the week-end is based on the theme around which the entire General Conference program is built: "What Think Ye of Christ." Round table discussions and group meetings on the problems and opportunities facing Christian laymen are scheduled.

Most of the Laymen's Week-end speakers are scheduled to speak during the earlier days of the Conference also. Other important speakers who will be heard previous to August 10 include Dr. Robert E. Speer, Presbyterian Foreign Missionary secretary whose son, Elliott Speer, is administrative head of The Northfield Schools; Dr. George A. Buttrick of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York; Dr. W. Douglas Mackenzie, president emeritus of Hartford Seminary Foundation; and Dr. Paul E. Scherer of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, New York.

A double mixed quartet chosen by Dr. John Finley Williamson from members of his Westminster Choir will continue this year the Northfield tradition of fine gospel music. In the early days of the Northfield Conference Ira D. Sankey and George C. Stebbins and others made musical history here with their new hymns, many of which have become standard church music. The Westminster singers, representing as they do the best in today's religious music, are worthy successors to a long line of musical talent.

Special emphasis will be laid this year on the Round Top services. Dr. Speer will speak at the first meeting on August 7 and Christian leaders from several foreign countries will be heard during the following days.

Grand Circuit Races

Boston, Mass.—Veteran of nearly 40 years of harness horse racing on the Grand Circuit, Walter R. "Long Shot" Cox, who in his 66th year thinks nothing more of piloting trotters 100 miles a day in training jaunts than most men do in catching a street car, will return to the scene of his early triumphs when the gold and blue colors of Good Time Stable, for which he trains at Goshen, N. Y., fly at the Rockingham Park meet, Aug. 1-11.

Born and raised in New England, where he started his long and honorable career with harness steps, and where he stands out as the best known and loved horseman of the day, Walter Cox, as keen-eyed, sharp-witted and long-legged as ever, remains the last of the "Big Six," which once upon a time made history throughout the land and included Edward F. "Pop" Gers, Lon MacDonald, Billy Andrews, Billy Snow and Tommy Murphy.

While all of these, except Cox, have died or deserted the sport, this Yankee buckskin of the harness horse still stands as firm as ever a friend of the "grand old sport." "Long Shot" hasn't changed much, every veteran recalls. He's still as ready to help the fellow that's down a bit on his luck as ever, but he's no more charitable than in former years for the man who tries to put something over on him. And these are few and far between.

This year, Cox is bringing 11 swift-stepping trotters and pacers to Rockingham Park for the spectacular $100,000 harness card arranged by Allan Wilson, of Boston. The stops on the Roarin' Grand to date, at Cleveland, Toledo and Toronto, have seen Cox's equines rounding into shape in proverbial style, without anyone but the old master himself familiar with just what they can do.

Among Walter's stars are Mame McElwyn and Goshen, both Hambleton Stake candidates and also entered in three-year-old stakes at Salem. The Ritz, Addison, Walter's sister and Miss Harris T., also carefully trained for the Rockingham Trot, are juveniles with great possibilities. Flavia, another three-year-old, appears to be held in the background by Cox with anything liable to happen when this filly gets the word to go. Calumet Dubaque, a swift-stepping pacer who has already won glory this year by trouncing the favorites, will start in Rockingham's main feature, along with Prince Hall, fast 4-year-old, who closed off victory last Cleveland in his first start of 1934.

Garden Club

The Flower Show is only a month away. These last weeks and days are going to be busy ones. We need the alive support of every member of the club to make this a success. A thing of this type is not just a pretty show, it is a personal test of enthusiasm and real interest. There is a part for each of us and if each one of us, does our part, there will be no question but that the Flower Show will be something that we will look back to with pleasure for many months.

We are going to need a great many flowers. We need them from your garden and those of your neighbor. We need the common every-day flowers as well as the rare ones. Don't refuse your contribution because it seems simple and ordinary. Nothing that is beautiful can even be common place. This is your Flower Show and mine, so bring in of your best whether it is merely nasturtiums or rare lilies.

Mr. Lyman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Lyman, well known former residents of Northfield who now reside in Florida. He graduated from Northfield High School in the class of 1923, and after completing courses in journalism at Temple University, Philadelphia, has since been engaged in newspaper work. Mr. Lyman is at present employed as assistant business manager of the Madison Eagle. No date has been set for the wedding.

South Vernon

Miss Eleanor Brown of Winchester, N. H., a former teacher at the South Vernons, called on Monday Sunday and attended the morning services at the South Vernon Church.

The South Vernon Church will be closed for the next three Sundays, July 29, Aug. 5, and Aug. 12 and the prayer-meetings at the Vernon Home, will be discontinued until further notice after this week.

The Vernon Chapel meetings will be discontinued through the month of August.

The Girls' 4-H Humming Bird Club will hold a food sale on the lawn at the Vernon Home on Friday, July 27, at 3 P. M. Standard Time. It is hoped it will be well patronized, as the proceeds are for the benefit of sending a girl to the 4-H Camp at Camp Waubanoag in Townshend, Vt.

Last Sunday morning at the South Vernon Church the pastor, Rev. Geo. A. Gray, preached from the text, "20th Century Possibilities." A fine duet "Bearing His Cross," was sung by E. W. Dunklee and Mrs. Ralph Gibson, followed by a trombone solo by Miss Edith Tenney of Northfield. This was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ralph Gibson. In the evening Mr. Gray's text was, "The Master's Hand." During the song service, the audience greatly enjoyed the special music played by Mrs. Edith Tenney on the piano, Miss Edith Tenney on the trombone and E. W. Dunklee on the saxophone. Frederick G. Brooks, pastor of the Advent Christian Church in Whitefield, N. H., came last Thursday morning after a trip to Maine to visit his aunt, Mrs. Ginele P. Bruce. Mrs. Burke and baby son Frederick Erwin, Jr., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbell in Hiram, Conn. Mr. Burke drove to Bristol Tuesday to join his family for a short visit there.

Mrs. E. P. Edson spent Monday with her father, James Long in Lexington, Mass.

Elmer Scherlin, substitute mail carrier has finished his job for now and Dick Steenbruggen is back on the rural route after an enforced vacation by sickness.

Mrs. Jennie Nichols is entertaining her grand - daughter, Mary Skidmore and two great grand-daughters of Reading, Mass., at the Vernon Home.

The South Vernon Sunday School was recently awarded a large and beautifully framed banner with gilt lettering on it and a vase of flowers in the center for the largest percentage of points in attendance during the year by the Western Mass. and Connecticut Conference.

The Humming Bird Club with their leader, Mrs. Mildred Dunklee met at the home of Miss Beatrice Lackey in Vernon, Vt., last Wednesday for a business meeting followed by sewing. At the close they drove to the home of their former leader, Mrs. Ginele Bruce, and gave her a birthday surprise. Mrs. Bruce received a pretty birthday cake. Punch was served. The girls made blue prints during their stay.

Several people from this vicinity attended the wonderful pictures of "The Life of Christ," given at the Baptist Church in Brattleboro last Thursday evening. Among those who went were: Mrs. Julia Ennis, Miss Edith Tenney, E. W. Dunklee, Mrs. M. H. Bemis, F. A. Brooks of Whitefield, N. H.

Robert Bruce spent the week-end with friends in South Londonderry, Vt.

Lake Pleasant

The problem which faces the managers of dances this summer, probably because of daylight saving time, is the adoption of some method which will induce the dancers to assemble earlier in the evening and the dances being held Saturday nights at the Temple have the same problem. The Ambassadors which play for these dances are making a hit with their music and last Saturday night witnessed the best attendance of the season, the floor being filled to nearly capacity between ten and twelve o'clock, yet up to nine-thirty hardly two dozen couples were on the floor, though the music starts promptly at 8:15. One well-known dance is offering admission at reduced rates for those who come before nine o'clock, perhaps that will solve the problem.

Two well attended meetings were held at the Temple Sunday. In the afternoon Rev. Albert P. Blinn spoke upon the subject "The Things We Know," receiving many favorable comments at the close of the service. The message work of Mrs. Josephine M. Simon was exceptionally good, every message being greedily recognized, and in the evening she scored another success. Mrs. Josie Benton of Burnside, Conn., and Mrs. Lilian J. Blinn sang two duets and led the congregational singing, adding much to the enjoyment of the services.

Next Sunday witnesses the opening of the sixty-second annual camp meeting of the New England Spiritualist Association.

Mr. Harold Alderson, formerly of Blackpool, England, and now of Providence, will be the speaker and psychic for the three services of the day. Mr. Alderson is one of the great lecturers of the Spiritualist cult and an excellent psychic. The camp meeting will continue for thirty days as usual, including five Sundays.

Many local mediums are located here for the summer and the spiritual meetings held by them at their various cottages have been an interesting feature of camp. The North Vernons will continue during camp meetings at the evenings when nothing is being held in the Temple and on Saturday nights, as they do not interfere with the Saturday dance.

Early in the season a report was current that Lake Pleasant Inn, owned by the association, would not be open this season, but the Inn formally opened Sunday with Miss Amy Neas in active charge and many reservations have been received for week-ends and during the month of August.

Mrs. Mary J. Boyden of First few weeks in Wollaston returned here last week and had as guests over the week-end Mr. Reagh Boyden and his wife and little daughter of Wollaston, Mass.

Mrs. Clara H. Collamore and Mr. and Mrs. Christian Simon of Massena Street entertained as guests over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Dan L. Jordan and Mr. Christopher Smith and family of Burnside, Conn. and Mrs. Carl F. Lindsey of Hartford, Conn. Miss Josephine Benton who has been spending the past two weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. Simon, returned home to Burnside Monday.

Property owners are complaining of small depredations being committed about the grounds, such milk bottles, etc. This is somewhat money being taken from the thing new for Lake Pleasant as the place has always been quite free from this sort of thing, and prompt measures are being taken to apprehend the culprits.

EDITORIAL

The political pot has been put on to boil and from now until the Primaries we are sure to be bombarded by the Political Promise.

It is our opinion that any candidates elected this year will be elected on the basis of record and performance rather than on promises. The country is fed up on political promises and will go back beyond words to deeds. As we recall the figures issued during the last Presidential campaign we were to have a 25% reduction in Federal expenses or soon as the present administration was inducted into office. This was to be done by the simple method of cutting down the overstaffed Federal Bureaus
and to eliminating some bureaus.
When the new administration went into office the civilian pay roll of the government embraced $66,986.
One year later the same pay roll embraced $23,559. If this is a 25% reduction we were imposed upon by our arithmetic teacher.

And so when the candidates parade this year it will be to skeptical audience who will say with Emerson "What you are speaks so loudly that I cannot hear what you say."

People's Forum

Editor, Northfield Herald:
Will you kindly publish a notice
in The Northfield Herald that I am a candidate for the short term as County Commissioner.

I have served the town of Erving
as Selectman and Assessor for thirty years and as Moderator for over 20 years. Also represented the third Franklin District in General Court four years.

Do you know of someone who would be willing to get a few names on my nomination paper?
Yours very truly,
C. H. HOLMES.

I should like to call to the attention of the townspeople of Northfield the some 1500 acres or more of land near the French King Bridge in Millers Falls and Erving which has been invaded by the Gypsy Moth. If adequate care had been given (at least) once a year, destruction such as this would have been entirely preventable. For 13 years the town has appropriated a sum for the work.

Results from the money are not clearly recognized until one actually sees an area of land in which the insects have been allowed free play. Whoever happens to see the destroyed section will appreciate I am sure the value of such an appropriation and what the latter has done to keep the pest under control in Northfield. This work should be kept up in this section.
Very truly yours,
R. H. Parker, Local Moth Supt.

VIRGINIA CAMP NEEDS FRIENDS AND FUNDS

The New York City Mission
pays the carefare of over $400.00
each summer for the 120 children
to come and go from Northfield,
as well as the bills for their food
and the maintenance of the camp.
But there are many extras which the friends in Northfield may like to care for as their contribution to the welfare of the children.

Two recent needs have made extra funds necessary to care for this work properly. Renovating the splendid extra large camp - sized refrigerator, originally made by the Seminary, cost about $25.00.
Then there are little girls who have to scurry about dodging drops or deluges on rainy nights because of roofs which have been patched and repatched until the limit has been reached on their durability. Next, we need new roofing which will cost $40.00 per roof, or $200.00 when all five cabins have been attended to. The money to pay for these emergency
"extras" must be raised this summer. On account of the heavy work being carried this year by the Seminary, with the reservoir, Lewis and Bolton have become the official carpenters of the camp, and W. B. Miller has also helped with some of this remodeling.

Aug. 4, at 8:30 p.m., in the Auditorium there will be a concert
given as a benefit for the Virginia Camp. A beautiful program has been planned, which includes numbers by the Louise Andrews Camp, Virginia Camp, Westminster Choir,
and several violin, piano and vocal soloists. At this time an opportunity will be given to old friends to give their annual gifts to the camp, and any new friends, church societies or clubs to make a special gift. In the past Mount Holyoke College,

Mount Hermon Church, Park St.
Church in Boston, and other organizations have helped, and we want such support this year.
Mrs. Emma M. F. Powell,
Treasurer.

DAWN STORM

I work one summer dawn, to hear the rain
In sheets descending on the roof
outside.

In robe and slippers, on the porch
I sat.

To watch the flood sweep over
street and walks.

The drain pipe was washed clear
of sparrow nests.

And one small, draggled mother
bird flew up

Beneath the porch rail, seeking shelter there.

The thunder rolled, and birdie
hopped across

To huddle next the wall. At every clap

And flash of lightning, she would
hop and cower,

As: "Oh, my goodness!" I could guess she thought.

I never knew a bird could act so like

Some women whom I know who fear a storm!

—A. L. Webb.

INTERESTING DAYS

Camille Hyacinthe Odilon Bar-
rot, one of the most eloquent and influential liberal leaders of his day, was born July 19, 1791, at Villefort, in the Lozere, France.
He was the rallying point of all who wished to carry out the principles of the revolution.

It was the suave relations of Pope Leo XIII with Russian powers of his day which secured liberty for the Roman Catholics of that country. He died July 20, 1909.

Walter B. Pillsbury, psychologist and author of "The Psychology of Nationality and Internationalism," was born July 21, 1872, at Burlington, Iowa.

July 22 is Mary Magdalene's Day. It is also the anniversary of the death, in 1461, of King Charles VII of France, which permitted his son Louis XI to return from exile, when a little boy. His crafty cruelty as a monarch is partly explained by his early experiences—chased out of the country with bloodhounds by his own father, dependant for food and clothes on those whom he hated and feared.

Twenty years ago on July 23
Austria delivered her ultimatum to Serbia, refusal of which precipitated the World War hostilities.

July 24 is celebrated in Utah as Pioneers' Day. On this day, too,
74 years ago the Prince of Wales, Duke of Newcastle, and their party of friends and retainers, landed at St. John's, Newfoundland, for a tour of the Canadian colonies.

"Honors were easy" on July 25
in the war of 1814 between the mother country and her lost colonies, the Americans winning at the Battle of Bridgewater (or Lundy's Lane) and the British at Chippewa.

MEXICAN RABBIT STEW

Cut a young rabbit into 6 pieces and pour over it 1 cup mild vinegar, with 1 medium sized onion, 1 tablespoon chili powder and 1
qt. cold water. Cover your kettle and simmer slowly till the meat is tender enough to pick off the bones easily with a fork. Remove the rabbit and add flour and cold water enough to make a sauce to serve with the meat. If desired to make it richer, add a lump of butter. If you like tomato sauce, a small can may be added to the stew before cooking, or a can of tomatoes.

RUSSIAN SAUCE

Fifteen years ago, on July 20, President and Mrs. Wilson were floating down the Potomac on the presidential yacht Mayflower. At luncheon they had a salad with this Russian dressing on it:

Put the hard boiled yolks of 4 eggs through a fine strainer, and add 3 tablespoons anchovy paste,
1-2 teaspoon each salt and white pepper, 4 tablespoons chili sauce, and 1 teaspoon paprika. Chop two onions fine, add 3 tablespoons caviar, and mix in, and the last thing before serving on the lettuce, fold in 4 tablespoons mayonnaise.

YELLOW PICKLE

Mrs. R. Eliot of Milwaukee made good mixed pickles by this rule: Make your pickle of 1-2 lb.
tumeric, 1 lb. mustard, 4 ozs. nutmeg, 1-2 oz. mace, 2 ozs. each cloves and white pepper, 1 qt.
white pepper, 1 qt. white and black mustard seeds, 1-2 lb. white ginger root, 1-4 lb. bruised coriander seed. Into this, as they come in season, put the vegetables, prepared, as cabbage, cauliflower, radish seed pods, silver skinned onions, asparagus, beans, cucumbers and horseradish.

CANADA EGG BISCUITS

Sift together 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder (or 2 of cream tartar and 1 of soda), and 1 teaspoon salt. With finger tips rub in 1 tablespoon shortening.
Add 1-2 cup cold water and 1 egg, mixing with a knife blade and not kneading the dough, which should be very soft. Roll out lightly and quickly to 1-2 in. thickness, cut,
and bake 15 minutes in hot oven.

JAM AND JELLY CHART

A convenient table of boiling time and sugar weights for many kinds of fruits is as follows—clip and paste in your cook book for reference:—

MEETING HOUSE ASSOCIATION

The 28th Annual Pilgrimage of the Old Rockingham, Vermont Meeting House Association will take place on the afternoon of August 5, 1934 at 3:30 P. M. E. S. T. The address for the occasion will be given by Tremwell Mason White of Boston, Mass.

Mr. White as a boy attended the Boston Public Schools. He obtained his B.S. and A.M. degrees at Norwich University, and took up his graduate work at Harvard University. Mr. White also studied at the Emerson College of Oratory and John Gallishaw's School of Writing.

He was English Master at the Hotchkiss School and was a member of the English department at Williston Academy. Later he became English director of the Dedham Public Schools. In 1923 Mr. White was appointed assistant professor of English at Northeastern University and also director of Educational Research at the same institution. In 1930 he was a lecturer on Creative Writing at the Breadloaf (graduate) School of English, Middlebury College.

Early in 1930 Mr. White was appointed associate editor of D. C. Heath and Company, and on January 1 of that year he was elected president and director of Lothrop, Lee and Shepard Company. He has been for some years contributing editor of "The Writer" magazine, associate editor of "Education" magazine, lecturer in literature at the Curry School of Expression. For many years he has been lecturer in Creative Writing at the Massachusetts State Department of Education, Division of University Extension (at Harvard). He is the author of numerous short stories, articles, and books, including the following volumes: "The Thing In The Road," "Three Rookies at Morton," "Writers of Colonial New England," "Opportunity Ahead," "Famous Leaders of Industry (Series III)," and "Muffled Wings."

He is a member of the Norwich Club, Boston Authors' Club, Authors' League of America, the honor fraternity—Pi Gamma Mu, the National Council of Teachers of English, and other Educational societies.

Mr. White is greatly interested in the Old Rockingham Meeting House and vicinity. He is a descendant of Henry Davis one of the earliest settlers of Rockingham, a Revolutionary Soldier who took part in the battle of Bunker Hill. Many of his ancestors spent their lives in Rockingham and are now sleeping in the graveyard nearby. The title of Mr. White's talk will be "The Emphasis in Water."

The sermon will be delivered by Dr. Arthur Wentworth Hewitt. Dr. Hewitt, preacher, educator, legislator, lecturer, poet, writer, is a striking example of what a man may do in the way of self-education. Though he never had a day of college life and never attended a college commencement until he received his doctor's degree at Middlebury College, he stands at the head of the list as all around educated man. He is a lover and collector of books and has a library of which he is justly proud. After graduating at Montpelier Seminary at the age of 18 he accepted the pastorate at Plainfield, Vermont where he remained for a quarter of a century. He is now living at his boyhood home, Highland Manse, Riverton, Vermont.

Dr. Hewitt is a Vermont to the nth degree. He glories in his citizenship and has long been an active and powerful influence in shaping the affairs of our State. He has twice served in the House of Representatives and at the session of 1916 he and his father were members of the House at the same time. Dr. Hewitt is Chairman of the State Board of Education.

His writings are characterized by wit, humor, and pathos and present a rare philosophy of life.

A male quartet of Springfield with viol accompaniment will interpret old New England Songs.

UNITED STATES POST OFFICE NORTHFIELD, MASS.

Editor:
The Northfield Herald
Northfield, Mass.
Dear Editor,

This information which I am enclosing will, I believe, be of interest to every one who does business by means of Post Office Money Orders. I quote from a letter received from the Bureau of Accounts in Washington.

On and after August 1, 1934 every money order paid within 30 days after issue at a post office OTHER THAN WHICH IT WAS DRAWN is subject to a collection of a "Paid M. O. Fee" of the same amount as the fee collected when the order was issued. For example, on an order drawn for $12.50 the "Paid M. O. Fee" collection should be 13 cents, and the balance $12.37 paid the payee.

No money order drawn on any other Post Office other than the Northfield Post Office, if presented here for payment after 30 days from the day of issue can be paid. I would appreciate your giving this new order publicity in your paper.

Sincerely yours,
Lawrence D. Quinlan
Postmaster.

SCHOOL NURSE RESIGNS

Mrs. Marion Lilly, district nurse has resigned her position to take effect Sept. 1st. Mrs. Lilly will relinquish her duties early in August and have the last three weeks in August as her vacation. Miss Catherine Herron of Leyden, a graduate of Franklin County Hospital will assume the duties of district nurse on Sept. 1st.

Miss Herron has had three months training with the Greenfield District Nurses, and completed her infection diseases training at the Boston City Hospital. Miss Herron has done school nursing in Gill, Bernardston and Leyden for the three years, beside her private experience.

LEGION SHOW

The American Legion presented one of the finest entertainments ever offered to an Northfield audience Wednesday night when U. F. Grant and Vin Carey magicians put on a variety show. The attendance was slim indeed which seems strange. The two young magicians are rated among the top-notchers and came to Northfield as personal favor to a member of the Post. For some reason the town is not in favor of the boys who in 1917-18 answered their country's call.

Northfield apparently was with her soldiers as far as the railway station. If the boys who are now in the Legion showed the same interest in 1917 as the town does today we would be living under a Burgomaster instead of a board of selectmen.

CONFERENCE REGISTRATIONS

Conference officials predict an unusually large attendance at the General Conference this year. Advance registrations are the basis for this prediction.

We wish to thank our many friends who have so generously supported us in the opening of our new Pickwick Coffee Shop and English Hunting Room.

Naturally with so large a staff of new employes we have made mistakes and the first few days have been trying ones for us in getting accustomed to our new quarters.

However, we believe our staff is now so organized that things will move smoothly and we cordially invite all who have not inspected our new restaurants to do so.

These restaurants may be entered from High street and from our lobby and are a part of Hotel Brooks which is a community Hotel not owned by any individual but by approximately sixty business men and women of Brattleboro.

WE DELIVER WEDNESDAYS

BRATTLEBORO, VT.

OUR COWS AGAIN!

Unloading on the ice some of the 700 bales of hay for our three cows and baby bull.

LITTLE AMERICA. ANTARCTICA, July 17 (via Mackay Radio): Today I took on a new job, just temporarily—melting snow for water for the cows. They drink 12 gallons of water a day and that means we have to melt several dozen pails of loose snow every 24 hours. With our little stove this is not easy. But, then, none of our work down here is easy so it is all part of the game.

Our three cows and Antarctic iceberg, our baby bull, are thriving on a mixed diet of alfalfa, timothy and clover hay and a commercial grain mixture. We have almost more milk than we know what to do with but we appreciate its benefits to our health and there is nobody here on the ice who dislikes it. Our cows are producing milk as follows:—Klondike Nira 30 pounds per day (meanings almost 15 quarts), Deerfoot 31 pounds daily and Foremost Southern Girl 33 pounds. And that is considerable milk for 56 men!

The climate here, with temperatures frequently from 50 to 60 degrees below zero, apparently has no effect on our cattle. The body heat of the cows and the bull keeps their undersnow barn reasonably warm even during the coldest days and nights. In their barn, however, we have a stove so that fresh air can be drawn in and passed over it to pre-heat it, so the air in the barn will always be fresh.

The baby bull now weighs about 375 pounds and has all the points of a very good animal. I go in and play with him occasionally but I am regarding the advice we got by radio from expert dairymen at home through the club secretary to be very careful in case of a sudden change of temperament. Young iceberg enjoys attention and seems to take an interest in everything and everybody. Edgar Cox, whom we have changed from a carpenter to a cow-hand, says the boys are teaching him bad habits and that he will be hard to handle when he grows up. The dogs seem to like the cow barn, probably on account of the heat, and are extremely friendly toward the cows. Every time a dog gets loose in the tunnels we know where to find him—in the barn. There is a strong possibility that we shall run out of canned butter, of which we brought a large supply with us. We should worry. We have a churn and fresh butter should taste pretty good to us.

I am glad to learn, by radio, that the club is still going ahead in splendid fashion with new members coming in every day. Remember, membership in this unique organization is free and every member receives, without charge, a membership card and a big working map of the Antarctic regions. All you have to do to join is to write to me at our American headquarters and enclose a clearly self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address Arthur Abele, Jr., President, Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, and our club staff will do the rest.

piece of floor-board about an inch long and began to smoke but didn't set fire. It struck several telephone poles and melted the wire. At Mr. Snow's it tipped a tub of water over, whirled a chopping block out of the wood shed. At Glenn Boyle's it knocked Mr. Boyle and the hired man off the milking stool, knocked a cow down and a ball of fire was seen to roll out of the barn. No one was hurt aside from the shock and a few bruises, and in several other places it struck in Gill.

Miss Odie Summer has returned from her camping trip at Forest Lake where she and some friends have been, also Helen Sumner has returned from a visit with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Allard, at Whitingham, Vt.

Davenport Announces

William A. Davenport of Greenfield, announces that he will be a candidate at the primaries for the Republican nomination to the Senate from the Franklin-Hampshire District. In making the announcement, he stated that the only way to open to the people for relief from present burdensome, oppressive and confiscatory taxation is to elect, as their representatives in Senate and House, men or women who pledge themselves to do all in their power to reduce state and other expenses and thereby secure reduction of taxation. He further stated that if the voters see fit to give him the nomination, and he is elected, he will do all in his power, as their representative, to lighten the burden of taxation.

Mr. Davenport has been active in attempting to secure legislation which would reduce taxes; was active in organizing the Greenfield Taxpayers' Association; was president of the Federation of Western Massachusetts Taxpayers' Associations; and organized local taxpayers' associations in many towns in Western Massachusetts.

He has been in the active practice of law for 29 years; was admitted to practice in the United States Supreme Court; in 1908.

While a member of the legislature in 1899 and 1900 he served on the House Judiciary Committee both years. He has held the office of selectman of Greenfield seven years; was town solicitor three
